My dear Mr Ormsby

I beg to return you my warmest thanks for your valuable present. It will be an heirloom in my family, and the most precious I could possibly leave them. I have not yet looked through the whole, for I am somewhat nervous at present, and it requires courage to reflect upon past times, and scenes still so fresh in my memory. I will send you the little portrait I mentioned to you to be the passport to the Spanish Embassy, and will let you know when it reaches London. It is painted by my dear Grandaughter Helena Brockmann, a beautiful girl of eighteen.
